

Probus Club of Mercer Island - Today

Probus Mercer Island is a social club for retired and near-retired people who enjoy the opportunity to meet with new and old friends and to enjoy and benefit from hearing programs by guest speakers on topical subjects. Current membership of the Club is about 200, one of the largest in the United States, and typical attendance at one of our monthly meetings is about 60 to 80.

The club meets on the first Wednesday of each month from 10:30 am until noon, and a light lunch is offered afterward for those who would like to stay and talk further with their friends about the program. Our speakers usually also stay for lunch and join in the conversation.

Meetings are held at the Mercer Island Presbyterian Church located at 3605 84th Ave SE. Periodically the Club will arrange field trips to places of interest to the members, such as Paul Allen's Flying Heritage Museum in Everett. We also have Spring and Holiday luncheons with entertainment.

Probus is self-directed and managed and, as such, offers volunteer opportunities. If you are looking for continued light challenges in retirement, your participation is welcome and valued.

You are invited to attend, to meet us and to experience the quality programs and warm friendships offered by our Club.
